

Contractor Declares Cresco Detour To Last Until Late July

Temporary Road Sought As Solution

Cresco — Resort operators and businessmen in Barrett Township learned yesterday the traffic detour on Route 90 here will extend until late July, despite an announcement last week from Highway Department officials that the road obstruction would be cleared by May 28.

Disclosure came from Lee B. Marks, contractor who said "it is physically impossible to complete the job until late in July."

Marks' announcement at a meeting arranged by Harold Swenson, executive secretary of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau sent businessmen into a huddle for a solution. They came up with the suggestion, after examining the road construction, of a temporary by-pass to permit free flow of traffic. Preliminary estimates indicate such a by-pass would cost about $12,000.

Meeting at Onawa Lodge, the group of resort men and other businessmen said they will appeal through the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce and Vacation Bureau for some action by the highway department to keep the road open.

Charles Geissinger of Mo-Nom-O-Nock Inn said another tie-up of traffic following last year's complete season block would prove a detriment to resorts in that section. Last year, he estimated, operators and businessmen here lost about $500,000.

Geissinger also explored future construction of Route 90 through Cresco and Mountainhome, adding such an undertaking probably would tie-up traffic another three years, leaving a total of five years of detours.

Harry I. Shinnen, Onawa Lodge operator predicted Barrett Township residents will be "infuriated" once the news breaks that the detour will remain on until late July.

Marks' company holds the contract to build a bridge over the DL&W railroad tracks here, about 300-feet west of the existing crossing at the station.

James Lick, superintendent for the Marks firm said work already is 300 per cent ahead of schedule, but confirmed Marks' announcement that completion of work cannot possibly be done in the given three weeks.

Licks said his crews will complete pouring of concrete for the bridge structure tomorrow and steel will arrive Monday, with erection slated for Wednesday. But the main block to traffic, he said, will occur on Route 90 itself where his firm is under contract to build 1,500-feet of new blacktop road.

Licks also challenged a statement issued earlier defining "local" traffic. From the announcement, he said, it appeared all local traffic would be allowed to cross the road. But, Licks said, the company plans to station two men on the highway, one at each end of the project.

These men, he said, will question the motorists' destination. For example, he continued, if a northbound driver says he's headed for Mountainhome he'll be instructed to turn around and travel there via Route 290 and Canadensis.

If a southbound motorist says he's going toward Paradise Valley, he will be instructed to travel by way of Mountainhome and Canadensis, south on Route 290.

Only traffic permitted will be those persons going to the railroad itself, or to any point within the 1,500 feet of new road work.

The group traveled over the project to determine where a temporary by-pass could be placed. The decision was to first seek permission of the DL&W Railroad to utilize a portion of its property paralleling Route 90 to the east, and seek a right-of-way permit from Lida Van Dyne to cross a small section on that property north of the railroad tracks.

If permission is obtained, they said, they then will ask Barrett Township road supervisors to approve the plan, then submit it to the highway department for final approval.

Marks pointed out the limits of his work on Route 90. At the north end the new road from the bridge will connect with Route 90 and 1,000 feet of Route 90 will be

Jury Deliberates Dickenson Case

Washington (AP)—A jury of eight high-ranking Army officers yesterday deliberated for five hours and 22 minutes on collaboration-with-the-enemy charges against Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson and then recessed until today without reaching a decision.

The case went to the court-martial at 10:09 a.m. and except for an hour for lunch the officers stayed on the job until 4:35 p.m., when a recess was ordered until 9:15 a.m. today.

Dickenson was a prisoner of war in Korea. Unanimity is not required for conviction. A two-thirds vote — in this case 6-2 — is necessary however.

CLU Strongly Opposes Wage Tax In East Borough; Equal Assessments Urged

The Central Labor Union of Monroe County went on record Sunday night as strongly opposed to the wage tax which is proposed for East Stroudsburg. A letter will be sent to the Exchange Club setting forth labor's views on this tax.

Labor considers the wage tax and sales tax at least desirable taxes. President John Farley stated "The present trend toward taxing the little man is unjust. Taxation must be based on ability to pay. We must not tax the bread and butter of the working man."

Five Children Perish When Home Burns

Williamsport (AP)—Fire flashed through a two-story frame home early yesterday, killing five sleeping children.

A sixth child and the father safely fled the flames. The mother, not home when the fire broke out, suffered shock on learning of the tragedy.

Killed were Mary Ann, 11; Elizabeth Jean, 10; Bernard Jr., 8; David Michael, 6, and Dennis Paul, 23 months—all children of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. O'Brien.

Five-year-old Patrick O'Brien was shoved out of the burning house by his father. Both were hospitalized with burns.

Chief Harold E. Kinsley said the fire started in the living room, from a cause not determined.

Last night Raymond Anderson, state police fire marshal, said, however, "The fire originated from a smoldering cigarette which set the davenport in the living room afire."

Never Argue With Woman Wrestler, Husband Learns

Wichita, Kan. (AP)—Police said Eula J. Storey, 22, told them the argument started when her husband, Alford T. Storey, claimed he "was the boss in their family."

It ended when Storey found himself thrown through a window of their home.

Yesterday, Mrs. Storey was held under $1,000 bond on a charge of aggravated assault and her husband was nursing multiple cuts.

The young woman, the police explained, is a professional wrestler.

Atomic Peace Proposal Hit

New York (AP)—Bernard Baruch said yesterday President Eisenhower's atomic peace proposal would not lessen the danger of atomic world war. Peace, Baruch added, rests on general disarmament.

"The dangers of atomic attack would not be lessened; the atomic arms race would not slacken," said the man who drew up one of the first plans for harnessing atomic savagery. It was his first public comment on the Eisenhower proposal.

As for the Indochina crisis, the 83-year-old confidant of presidents and statesmen said:

"The time to have done something was long ago and not now. I don't know what we are to do. It looks to me like the fat is in the fire all the way around. If Indochina comes to a climax, it would seem to me that the other side has won."

Sound Waves Halt Pains Of Cancer

By Alton L. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Reporter
St. Louis (AP)—Silent sound waves beamed into the human brain can sometimes halt unbearable cancer pains and combat some insanities, Dr. P. A. Lindstrom of Pittsburgh said yesterday.

Dr. Lindstrom, neurosurgeon formerly married to Ingrid Bergman, said the method is painless and works as well as the surgeon's knife without causing troublesome effects.

Dr. Lindstrom, chief of neurosurgery at the Veterans Hospital and assistant professor at the University of Pittsburgh Medical School, described the sound wave technique to the American Psychiatric Assn.

He uses ultrasonics, beams of sound of such high frequency they are inaudible to the human ear. The wave is beamed through small holes made in each side of the forehead.

Results on 27 humans, mostly in great pain from hopeless cancer, were as good as those obtained with lobotomies, the surgical cutting of nerves or removal of part of the brain lobes, he said. Lobotomies are widely used to control pain or treat some insanities, but often cause other troubles.

Heads Of Both Parties Asked To State Stand

Candidates for office from Congressman down to County Chairman on both party tickets will be asked to put themselves on record regarding an adequate thru-way around the borough of Stroudsburg.

Stroudsburg Businessmen's Association, meeting last night at Mountain Manor, Marshalls Creek, unanimously adopted a resolution calling on candidates to take a position on this issue, and also to take a position on the objections to the proposed Ninth and Main St. by-pass favored by Secretary of Highways E. L. Schmidt.

The resolution will be submitted to all other organizations which have participated in the running fight for an adequate thru-way outside Stroudsburg and against the Ninth and Main St. by-pass.

All of the other organizations will be asked to adopt the resolution and to address the same list of candidates with a similar request that they go on record on the hot thru-way issue.

John Watt presented the resolution for Jack Kerlin, chairman of merchants' highway committee who was absent.

So much importance was attached to the thru-way issue and adequate parking facilities in Stroudsburg that merchants decided to give these problems their "undivided" attention, Holt Wyckoff, president said.

Mr. Watt reviewed all the steps taken since 1953 to obtain an adequate thru-way down to the recent visit with Gov. John S. Fine. Merchants adopted the resolution unanimously after Mr. Watt read it.

Watt said the issue is one which involves a "adapt-yourself-or-die" fundamental. Nothing tremendous changes made here in the last ten years. Watt said little had been done either physically or mentally to adapt our community to these changes. Next ten years, he said, will involve even greater changes, so the community must adapt itself to survive.

The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the Stroudsburgs and the Pocono Mountains region generally have no modern means of transportation excepting D. L. & W. Railroad, other than motor vehicles over existing highways, and

"Whereas, this places the economic well-being of all business and commerce and the social welfare of all citizens in direct relation to adequate jam-free highways and thru-ways, and

"Whereas, the Stroudsburgs and Pocono Mountains have been progressively distressed by a traffic-stranglehold brought about by junction of Route 611 and Route 209 at Seventh & Main Sts., Stroudsburg, ever since the construction of the Seventh St. Bridge about 1926, and

"Whereas, this grave traffic condition has been further aggravated by construction of a new four-lane bridge at Delaware Water Gap, and a new two-lane bridge at Portland, developing an additional volume of traffic into Route 611's

Polio Cases Show Increase

Harrisburg (AP)—Infantile paralysis cases reported in Pennsylvania during the first four months of this year doubled the number reported for the same period in 1953, the State Health Department said yesterday.

Dr. James D. Purvis, of the department's Health Conservation Bureau, said however, that the increase from 21 to 40 cases in the January-April period did not indicate any epidemic trend.

"The cases are spread rather thinly throughout the state," Purvis said.

He said that so far no cases have been reported from counties where the new Salk polio vaccine is being administered.

Hundreds Of Trucks Rush Fresh Vietminh Troops To Dien Bien Phu Fortress

By Larry Allen

Hanoi, Indochina (AP)—The Communist-led Vietminh rushed up fresh troops in long columns of trucks last night to the French fortress of Dien Bien Phu after calling off its third heavy and sustained assault on the hedghog defenses.

Hundreds of Russian-made Molotov trucks were spotted moving into the encircling hills last night, their headlights gleaming.

The Red-led Vietminh troops unaccountably halted their third big do-or-die attack Sunday night, after making savage headway into the encircling barbed wire strongpoints. They overran three strongpoints and part of a fourth and severely shivered up the ring of defenses surrounding Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries' central headquarters.

A military spokesman in Paris said three outposts at the isolated stronghold of Isabelle, south of the fortress' heart, were lost in the attacks of the night of May 1-2.

This was the fourth strongpoint which was partially overrun. The spokesman said another post was lost but retaken by counterattack.

"The center of resistance of Isabelle is entirely in our hands," the spokesman said.

It appeared the rebels were using the breathing spell to regroup. Seizing the opportunity, the French dropped fresh volunteer paratroopers, ammunition and other supplies into the shell-pocked fortress in northwestern Indochina.

Lehman Amendment Raises Threat Of Filibuster At Outset Of T-H Law Debate

By Roger D. Greene

Washington (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) raised the threat of a possible filibuster by Southern members yesterday at the outset of Senate debate on proposed revision of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

An amendment by Lehman, held in the offing for possible later use, would make it an unfair labor practice for either a union or an employer to discriminate against any employee "because of race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry."

Similar proposals have led to Senate filibusters in the past on civil rights issues such as the question of setting up a Fair Employment Practices Commission with authority to crack down on cases of racial discrimination.

If Lehman should call up his amendment, Southern opposition could lead to unlimited debate which could bog down and perhaps knock out any chance for Taft-Hartley revision this year.

"I do not know whether I will have a chance to call up this amendment," Lehman told the Senate, "but if such a chance is afforded me . . . I expect to do everything in my power to bring this proposal to a vote."

Sen. Ives (R-NY) had a similar amendment ready.

Lehman's use of the word "chance" apparently referred to the outcome of a Democratic motion to send the bill back to committee. If successful, this would virtually sidetrack the Taft-Hartley revision issue.

Another amendment likely to produce searching debate is one on "states' rights" sponsored by Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

It is expected in conference circles that when the peace talks get under way Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov may ask to have India included. But it is not believed he will press the point to the extent of wrecking the parity. The United States is opposed to the participation of India.

'Teahouse Of August Moon' Wins Pulitzer Drama Prize

New York (AP)—John Patrick's delicate little comedy of life on occupied Okinawa, "The Teahouse of the August Moon," yesterday won the 1954 Pulitzer drama prize. There was no fiction award.

The only two-time winner in the list announced by Columbia University was Herbert L. Block, the versatile cartoonist of the Washington Post and Times-Herald. His cartoon on the death of Joseph Stalin won him his second award. He last won in 1942.

The history award went to Bruce Catton, a 55-year-old former newspaperman, for his Civil War study, "A Stillness at Appomattox." The same book won the National Book Award for non-fiction early this year.

Charles A. Lindbergh, the famed transatlantic flier of 1927, won the Pulitzer Prize for biography with his autobiography, "The Spirit of St. Louis." It was his third book.

The prize in news photography went to a woman for the first time — Mrs. Walter M. Schau of San Anselmo, Calif.

Mrs. Schau, an amateur, caught a dramatic picture of a truck that had smashed through the railing of a bridge. It showed the rescue of the two truckmen from the dangling cab.

Theodore Roethke's "The Waking" won the poetry award and the music prize went to Quincy Porter for his "Concerto for Two Pianos and Orchestra." Each award in arts and letters is worth $500.

In the field of journalism the awards set up 37 years ago by the late publisher, Joseph Pulitzer, in addition to photography, were announced as follows:

Meritorious public service — Newsday, a Garden City, N. Y., daily newspaper, for its expose of labor racketeering and political shenanigans that spawned New York's great 1953 harness racing scandal.

Local reporting two awards — The Vicksburg, Miss., Sunday Post-Herald for its coverage of a

May Confine Testimony To 2 Witnesses

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP)—An Army proposal that the McCarthy-Pentagon hearing be limited to testimony by Secretary Stevens and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) was taken under "serious consideration" last night in a move to bring the hearings to an end.

The speedup effort was decided on at a closed-door meeting of the Senate investigating subcommittee after Stevens denied, in his eighth day of televised public testimony, that he was "covering up anybody."

The Army secretary also disclaimed any knowledge that John G. Adams, Army counsel, had threatened to issue a "smear" report against McCarthy's chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, early this year.

The announcement that serious thought was being given to confining future testimony to Stevens and McCarthy was made by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.), who said he sponsored a motion at last night's post-hearing session to have counsel for all interested parties canvass methods of speeding up the hearings.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said Dirksen's motion was adopted unanimously.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), saying he spoke for the three Democrats on the seven-member subcommittee, said however that, "We feel that all six principals, having been accused, should be heard."

This conclusion was reached, Symington said, after "most serious consideration" had been given to the proposal to restrict further testimony to "only two of the principals."

The two-witness proposal was advanced by Joseph N. Welch, special counsel to the Army in the dispute.

Last night's speed-up meeting, which will be followed by another one this morning prior to the resumption of televised hearings, was held after Adams took the stand briefly for the first time and sharply debated with McCarthy the meaning of a press statement.

Stevens did some denying of his own, too.

When McCarthy contended some Pentagon officials were trying to cover up for Communists, or for those who "shield" Communists, the Army secretary flared back: "I'm not covering up for anybody at any time."

If McCarthy and Stevens should become the sole future witnesses, the effect would be to eliminate as principals in the dispute Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr of McCarthy's staff, and Adams and Asst. Secretary of Defense H. Struve Hensel on the Pentagon side.

disastrous tornado last Dec. 5; and Alvin Scott McCoy of the Kansas City, Mo., Star for a series that led to the resignation under fire March 27, 1953, of C. Wesley Roberts as Republican national chairman.

National reporting — Richard Wilson of the Cowles newspapers for his exclusive publication of the FBI report to the White House in the Harry Dexter White case.

International reporting — Jim G. Lucas of Scripps-Howard newspapers, for his "dispatches that breathed of the human beings fighting" in Korea.

Editorial writing — The Boston Herald for its editorials in national defense by Don Murray.

Cartoons — Block for his drawing of a hooded figure of death remarking to Joseph Stalin, "You were always a good friend of mine, Joseph."

The journalism awards are worth $1,000 apiece, except the one citing a single newspaper for meritorious service. In this case, Newsday receives a gold medal.

Mrs. Fossa, 75, Succumbs After Illness

Mrs. Theresa Fossa, 75, Pocono Mountain Inn, Cresco, died at General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, at 9 a. m. yesterday, following a three-year illness.

Widow of Adolph Fossa, she was born in New York City. She was a member of St. Mary of the Mount Roman Catholic Church, Mount Pocono.

She came from Brooklyn two years ago to live in Mount Pocono.

Surviving are her son, Walter, proprietor of the inn where she made her home; a son, Albert, Syracuse, N. Y.; a daughter, Mrs. James W. Hopkins, Brooklyn, N. Y.; three grandchildren; two brothers, Frank and Charles Dondero, New York City.

Requiem mass will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday at St. Mary's Church, with Rt. Rev. C. A. McHugh as celebrant.

Burial will be in Laurelwood Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Clark funeral home, Stroudsburg, after 7 p. m. Tuesday, on Wednesday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m.

Rosary will be said at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

reconstructed as far north as Cliffview Inn.

To the south of the railroad tracks the new road development will be 500 feet, all blacktop with a built-up area approaching the access to the new bridge.

Work will limit traffic to single lanes, Marks said, and it is estimated it will take ten weeks to place new stone base.

After that the blacktop surface will be applied. This work, he said, will take about three days.

The new roadway will be increased from 18 feet to 22, with wide shoulders on either side. At the southern approach about 350 feet of new road, only recently completed, will be replaced to slope the road in the opposite direction.

Superintendent Licks said the overall contract calls for 145 working days. To date, he said, the company has used only 21 of those days.

Resort operators figure the temporary by-pass could utilize the shoulders of the southern approach to the railroad crossing for a distance of about 300 feet, then shift a short distance to the east and return to the existing highway and cross over the tracks.

In the north the plan is to take the temporary road along a spur of the DL&W tracks branching off the main line, and then return the road to Route 90 just north of Cliffview Inn.

Overall length of the by-pass, it was estimated, would be about 750 feet, and would not interfere with any power lines.

Last Wednesday the detour signs were erected by the Highway Department, advising motorists to use Route 290 into Canadensis and Mountainhome. The detour encompasses about 21 miles, resort operators said.

In a report to R. LeRoy Dengler, president of Monroe County Automobile Club last week R. E. Boyer, district engineer for the State Highway Department was quoted as saying the detour would not exist beyond May 28.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe said the Highway Department that the simultaneously he also was advised by the Allentown office of weeks.

Stroud Board Refers School Union Resolution To County

Asks Question Be Placed Before Voters

Stroud School Board voted last night to ask commissioners to put the question of union with Stroudsburg and Delaware Water Gap on the ballot in November.

The resolution to have voters decide the question was passed unanimously after the move was made by Russell Lesoiné and seconded by Albert Quigley.

Said the resolution, in part: "Resolved . . . that school directors of Stroud Township . . . present to county commissioners . . . a petition to submit to the electors of Stroud Township . . . the question of whether the school district of Stroud shall be united into a union district with the boroughs of Delaware, Water Gap and Stroudsburg."

Stroud is the first of the three townships in which directors have voted to petition the commissioners to have voters decide the issue. State Department of Public Instruction approval is also needed before the petition may be turned over to commissioners.

Other business: Harry Anton of Stroudsburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Anton, Stroudsburg, was hired as an upper grade teacher with administrative duties at Ananook School at $3,200 a year. He is a graduate of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, class of 1953, with a B.S. in education. He attended Columbia University and will receive his Master's degree in administration supervision this year.

Anton replaces Mrs. Lillian Wagner, who has been appointed third grade teacher at Clearview School. Directors also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Annabelle Peechak as fourth grade teacher.

Quigley was reelected treasurer of the board. He lives in Cherry Valley, is a foreman at Patterson-Kelley Co., East Stroudsburg.

Directors announced that teachers of Stroud District will receive a $100 yearly increase over and above their State-mandated increase.

Plans are being made by directors to present the pros and cons of the proposed union at a PTA meeting at 8 p.m. May 10 at Clearview School. All township residents are invited.

Estranged Wife Refuses Plea To Return To Mate

A Saylorsburg man offered in county court yesterday to take back his estranged wife. She said no.

Alvin J. Newell, 24, was before President Judge Fred W. Davis to account for being arrears in support payments for his wife and two children.

Judge Davis asked Newell why he was behind $1,730 or more in payments. Newell explained he had been out of work for some time and had only recently resumed payments. He was now working at a diner and would continue the payments, he said.

He said he had been to see his wife and had given her money, and wanted her to come back and live with him.

"What have you to say to that proposition, Mrs. Newell?" the judge asked.

578 X-Rayed As County-Wide Campaign Gets Under Way

A total of 578 X-rays were made yesterday as the county-wide mass X-ray drive began.

The program will continue this week and next week. The X-rays are free. Not only tuberculosis, but a number of other chest ailments are being checked for. Family physicians are notified if there is any symptoms of illness.

Yesterday's activity by the mobile X-ray unit included:

A total of 367 people processed at Chestnuthill Township, including 72 at Nova Sportswear Co. in Brodheadsville and the rest at Chestnuthill High School; 116 at Kunkletown, including Nationwide Shirtwaist factory and Kunkletown Sportswear Co. employees, and 95 at Kresgeville.

The West End was organized for the drive by State Nurse Ann Shafer.

These are locations for the mobile X-ray unit today and tomorrow:
Today—11 a.m. to noon at Kelper's Laundry, Stroudsburg, employees; 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at East Stroudsburg Municipal Building for foodhandlers only; 7 to 9 p.m. at Middle Smithfield School at Echo Lake for the community.
Wednesday, May 5—9-10 a.m., Coolbaugh Township High School; and 10:30-11:30 a.m., community residents; 1-4:30 p.m., Signal Corps Depot.

LeRoy Treible Sentenced To Penitentiary

LeRoy Treible, East Stroudsburg, was sentenced yesterday in county court to a penitentiary term of two and a half to five years on three charges of burglary.

The case involved railroad property, with Sgt. Harold Larison of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad police as prosecutor.

Attorney J. J. McCluskey was court-appointed counsel for Treible; he said he had nothing to add to what had been said when Treible pleaded guilty a month ago before President Judge Fred W. Davis.

The sentence included a $100 fine and payment of costs. Sheriff Jacob F. Altomose was ordered to take the man to Eastern classification center of Eastern Penitentiary, Philadelphia.

Treible had pleaded guilty April 5, in company with Caleb Martin Jr., 20, East Stroudsburg. Treible admitted three instances of breaking the seals on refrigerator freight cars and stealing meats, canned goods and other items.

Martin was charged with aiding in only one of the burglaries. The thefts occurred the nights of Jan. 15, Feb. 6 and March 19.

Martin was in court yesterday, but Judge Davis said he would defer sentencing until the May session of county court.

Bond Fined For Violating Motor Code

For driving while his license was under suspension, Donald G. Bond, 21, Saylorsburg RD 1, was fined $125 yesterday in county court.

President Judge Fred W. Davis also put Bond on six-month probation.

Bond was arrested Jan. 23 by Trooper Emil J. Weber of the Stroudsburg Station. He pleaded guilty yesterday. The case was presented by District Attorney Elmer D. Christine.

Nace was taken to the hospital later for treatment of cuts and bruises suffered in the fight at the apartment house, Bonser said, then was returned to the police station. A physician examined Nace and pronounced him drunk, said Bonser. In the station Nace refused to show his driver's license and became surly and abusive again, said Bonser. This resulted in the second charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Nace arranged for bail last night and was freed from county jail, where he had been held for hearing.

He was Chester Hendricks, 52, of Milton, Pa., who was arrested by Pfc. Evan R. Chaplin. Police said the case dates back more than two years. Investigation is being continued.

Nace Enters Innocent Plea To Six Charges Resulting From Fracas In East Borough

Law R. Nace Jr., 32, of 715 Main St., Stroudsburg, pleaded innocent last night to six charges resulting from the beating of two women in East Stroudsburg early Sunday.

He was found guilty on two charges and was bound over to the grand jury on the others. Nace was freed on $2,000 bail, by Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser.

Prosecuting officers were Donald Quick and Louis Caramella, of the East Stroudsburg force.

The charges: Forceful entry; two counts of assault and battery; being drunk and disorderly; two counts; and drunken driving.

Justice Bonser found Nace guilty on the drunk and disorderly charges and fined him $10 and costs on each charge.

Bonsers said that early Sunday Nace allegedly forced his way into the apartment of Mrs. Catherine McGinley at 95 Crystal St., East Stroudsburg, by breaking open the locked door, and there attacked Mrs. McGinley's daughter, Mrs. Joann Smith.

Bonsers said Nace is accused of choking and beating Mrs. Smith, then turning on her mother when Mrs. McGinley tried to drag him off. A friend of the family, James Schulte of Philadelphia, entered the fracas at that point, according to Bonser, and hit Nace over the head with a lamp, Bonser reported.

Nace was driven from the apartment, the justice reported, and proceeded to Stroudsburg. In the meantime Schulte managed to contact police. Officers Quick and Caramella went out in search of Nace. He had returned to East Stroudsburg, police said, and was found on Crystal St. again.

Officers said he was boisterous, unruly and refused to get into the squad car. Police had to put him in the justice said. Neighbors were awakened by the noise, police reported.

Nace was taken to the hospital later for treatment of cuts and bruises suffered in the fight at the apartment house, Bonser said, then was returned to the police station. A physician examined Nace and pronounced him drunk, said Bonser. In the station Nace refused to show his driver's license and became surly and abusive again, said Bonser. This resulted in the second charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Nace arranged for bail last night and was freed from county jail, where he had been held for hearing.

Two to four years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed yesterday on two Phillipsburg, N. J., men who pleaded guilty to three Monroe County burglaries.

Cecil Lawler and Robert Hutchinson were ordered by President Judge Fred W. Davis to pay fines of $100 and costs, and undergo imprisonment, with the sentence dated from Feb. 4, 1954.

The sentence was the same on each of the three counts of burglary against each man; the sentences are to run concurrently.

Attorney Maxwell H. Cohen, court-appointed counsel, talked briefly of Lawler's wife and two children.

The two defendants had pleaded guilty before Judge Davis April 5. Burglaries charged were Bologna's Stand and Price's Service Station in Tannersville-Bartonsville area, and Darr's Diner near Snyder'sville.

Sheriff Jacob F. Altomose was ordered to take the two to Eastern Correctional and Diagnostic and Classification Center of Eastern Penitentiary in Philadelphia within 10 days.

Oppelt Placed On Probation For Assault

Henry Oppelt, 31, Chester, Pa. pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of assault and battery against his wife.

He was given a suspended sentence by President Judge Fred W. Davis, and placed on two-year probation. He was ordered to pay $100 to the county.

The original charge was aggravated assault and battery, but this was amended to simple assault and battery. The charge was filed by Mrs. Oppelt, a Canadensis resident.

She told the court that she and a girl friend were making fudge last February when Oppelt came home and "accused" her in "foul language." She said she tried to ignore him by going from one room to another, but he followed.

When she attempted to test the fudge, she said, he seized her around the throat and shoved her back against the sink. There was a scuffle and she was bruised.

Protect Good Health

Good health in a community goes hand-in-hand with everything that is good for the happiness and continuing prosperity of all people.

Starting yesterday mobile x-ray units from the Department of Health began a tour of Monroe County which will cover every community.

Free chest x-rays will be given to workers, housewives, students—everybody. Backed and sponsored by Monroe County Medical Society, this tremendous health project has the backing of officers and directors of three other major public health organizations.

Monroe County's Health and Tuberculosis Society, Heart Society and Cancer Society are collaborating to see that all people take advantage of free x-ray facilities.

No citizen can afford to miss this opportunity for a chest checkup. Competent technicians are taking the pictures. Competent physicians of the General Hospital staff will read them.

The reports on every x-ray will go to the physician designated by the individual and to the individual.

It's simply a matter of good sense and good insurance to have an x-ray taken. Be healthy, and keep this community the healthiest place in the world.

Salesmen Wanted

Governor Kohler, of Wisconsin, says the dairyman has been "taking a beating in the press" because of emphasis on the surplus of butter and cheese.

He says far more of the Government's money is tied up in surplus wheat, cotton and corn than in dairy products, and that over the years the Government has lost more money on peanuts than on butter.

It seems to the governor unreasonable for Secretary Benson to have cut the dairy price supports to 75 per cent of parity, while keeping supports at 90 per cent on the so-called "basic" crops. The price cut is too small to increase consumption of dairy products very much, he says. Yet production will keep rising.

Milk and other dairy products still cost too much in the stores, and that is the real problem—for if every American family consumed the milk it needs for a proper diet, we would have no surplus of dairy products.

The dairymen would be better off, and so would the public, if dairy spokesmen would concern themselves more with their natural market and less with Government hand-outs.

Pretty Stamp

The new postage stamp issued this month—the first of a new standard series—pictures not one of the new weapons of destruction for which the United States is so much in the news abroad, but rather the symbol of our historic hospitality to our fellow man—the Statue of Liberty.

Probably no single object more accurately represents to foreigners the good side of America than this noble sentinel which has welcomed so many of their fellow men to this land of liberty and opportunity.

The design was most aptly chosen, for the principal use of this 8-cent stamp will be on letters to foreign countries, of which there are about 200 million a year.

The inclusion of our historic motto "In God We Trust" also is appropriate, for it is a dignified reminder that even though the United States has not and cannot have an official church, religion is basic in our way of life.

Our postage stamps in the past, with few exceptions, have ranged from the mediocre to the atrocious in design. This attractive new issue indicates a new policy, for which Postmaster General Summerfield and his artists deserve congratulations.

RUSSIAN ROULETTE

Robert S. Allen Reports

U.S., Britain, France, Russia To Plan A-Pool

Washington. — Two major atomic developments are in the offing, as follows:

President Eisenhower will propose that the U. S., Britain, France and Russia set up a special group to formulate a plan for his historic concept of an international uranium pool for peaceful purposes. The planning group would include scientists of the four powers.

Major General Leslie Groves to be appointed a member of the Atomic Energy Commission. The retired officer, who directed the "Manhattan Project" that developed the first A-bomb in World War II, would replace Commissioner Eugene Zuckert, whose term expires June 30.

Primary purpose of the proposed four-nation planning unit is to work out the technical details of the organization and operation of an international uranium bank. The group's recommendations will be subject to the approval of each participating country.

Secretary Dulles discussed this proposal at Geneva with the foreign ministers of Britain, France and Russia.

The development is of the utmost significance. It is tangible evidence that progress is being made on the President's concept. As reported in this column last Tuesday, Ambassador Zarouhin returned to Moscow expressly to report on his series of talks about the plan with Secretary Dulles.

Present arrangements contemplate the President's announcing this far-reaching development later this month.

On the Pan? — Atomic Chairman Lewis Strauss is the principal author of both developments. This has been ascertained by the Joint Congressional Atomic Committee. Members have particularly evinced interest in Strauss' vigorous advocacy of the appointment of General Groves to the Atomic Commission.

Reason for this critical attitude is a number of private complaints that under Strauss the Atomic Commission is becoming a "one-man" agency.

This charge has been voiced by important sources within the Commission itself.

Committeemen have been told — (1) That Strauss was the only Commissioner consulted on the momentous uranium bank concept and that none of the other Commissioners knew anything about it until it was announced. (2) That they also were not consulted regarding the suspension of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, which was ordered by Strauss. (3) That Strauss was responsible for the Commission's failure to submit a "TB Report" to Congress as required by the Atomic Energy Act.

Section 7B of the law provides that when the President decides the time has arrived to proceed with commercial development of atomic energy, he "shall transmit" a report on its social, political and international effects to Congress. Try and Stop Me

—by Bennet Cerf

Once a year, Waynoka, Okla., stages a big rattlesnake hunt. It's in the early spring, when the rattlers have just about emerged from hibernation and can be trapped with comparatively little danger in the badlands along the Cimarron River. Some hunts have resulted in a bag of 3000 rattlers, averaging three pounds each. At the current quotation of about $2 a pound, that means ample bounty, not to mention ridding the grazing ranges of a menace that, unchecked, would kill cattle valued in the thousands. Hunters usually bag their quarry by pinning the reptiles to the ground with a long wooden prong. Snake bite? That happens, too, occasionally, but the hunters have discovered happily that a sizable shot of whiskey is a mighty popular antidote. And since Oklahoma is a temperance state, one citizen of Waynoka is convinced that a lot of hunters let themselves get bitten on purpose.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

It's Not Individual Scientist's Right To Altar Government Policy As Worker

Mr. Jerry H. Simpson, Jr., a reader of this column in the "Washington Post and Times Herald," poses a profoundly important question about the Oppenheimer Case and the relationship of a scientist to his conscience:

"The question you raise is more theological than political, and is, I believe, essentially this: If a man contracts to utilize his capacities in behalf of a government program, and discovers, or decides, that the program is immoral (as you state), is he still morally bound to his contract? Or, to put it another way, does a man's duty to country take precedence over his duty to God? This is, perhaps, an oversimplification, but the principle, I think, obtains. Your own statement of it is whether 'private opinion ought to prevail over Government decisions when a conflict of view appeared.' It is certainly a question not easily answered."

Truly, it is a theological question as are most of the fundamentalists in life. Men live by what they believe to be true. The Marxist believes to be true that man is a product of his environment, of the tools he uses to earn a living; that morals are determined by environmental conditions, are comparative according to the times to historic necessity. Those who abide by the Judeo-Christian interpretation of Natural Law believe that the morality of man is a revelation from God and that there are absolutes from which man can depart only at his eternal peril.

Furthermore — and this may be the essence of the problem — man possesses free will, freedom of choice. He can do good, but he also can do evil; he can be right by will and he can be wrong by will. He can choose his course, take his risk, receive the benefits or the damages for his conduct.

Applied to the scientists who demand freedom of conscience, each one of them has the right to accept an invitation to work for the Government or to refuse to work for the Government. None of them has been drafted into Government work. Even a draftee may plead a conscientious objection. A scientist who accepted a Government appointment was never imprisoned; nothing could prevent him from resigning and stating his reason for resigning privately or publicly — publicly only if he did not disclose what was not his right to disclose under the law.

However, it is not an individual scientist's prerogative, while continuing to work for the Government of the United States, to attempt, directly or indirectly, to alter a policy of Government determined by Congress and other duly constituted authorities. There may be arguments in advance of decision and a citizen may disagree with the decision after it is taken, and he may vote against the Government in an election. But a Government employee has no right to stay on the job and sabotage his employer's decision. There is no reason why a scientist is different from anybody else.

It would seem to be that that is the issue in the Oppenheimer Case, in the Fort Monmouth Case, in the various Los Alamos espionage cases. I heard a distinguished gentleman explain away errors of judgment that could involve security risks or even espionage, make the point, in a sort of boys-will-be-boys manner, that we all swiped watermelons in our childhood. Some parents paddled their children for swiping anything.

That explanation is not good enough. We have all made mistakes. Maybe I made one when I went to lunch with Senator McCarthy and Secretary of the Army Stevens and found myself in a miniature conference on what to do with the Army investigation. Maybe, I would have done better to remain at the Park Lane Hotel where my friends do not keep notes of private conversation. But I went to the McCarthy-Stevens lunch and the risk of such associations is mine. It cannot be transferred to the proclivities of youngsters to swipe watermelons.

Individual judgment and opinion are inalienable rights in our society, and conformity is a stultification of mind and the spirit. But employment involves its own responsibility which morally binds the individual to his employer as long as he holds the job. This is too often forgotten in these days of loose morals and both public and private irresponsibility.

The average busy American housewife walks about eight miles a day in the performance of her chores.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

To thousands of people all over the country New York City is the Mecca of success, the alpha and omega of achievement.

They skip and save to come to the metropolis, they eat their hearts out with ambition and disappointment — many of them return to their home towns, sadder but wiser men or women, many others just compromise with failure and drift along.

If you do make the grade — and hundreds do — there is, of course, the great satisfaction of having met the biggest challenge in the world. No other city in the world, offers rewards for success as great as they are in New York.

If you ARE successful here, you have all sorts of privileges and gain all kinds of honors.

For instance, in the most fashionable night club in America, the "golden rope" is let down for you, you may be assigned a ringside seat in the most exclusive room, and, according to Walter Winchell, are allowed to pay 90 cents for a cup of coffee and several times 90 cents for a ham sandwich.

You are besieged by autograph seekers, hounded by reporters and photographers, solicited by all sorts of schemes and phoney enterprises — and finally get to bed at 4 a. m.

A New York VIP is a VIP, indeed!

But I read about a fellow the other day who can see the Empire State Building from his little abode on Tashua Hill in Connecticut. He lives in the same neighborhood where he was born, just a bit over 70 miles from New York, has never been in New York in all his life and is perfectly happy.

William Lamale, a reporter for the Bridgeport Telegram, went up to see Ben Turney, just to find out the contrast between a success-seeker and a success-finder.

He found him attired in patched and faded blue denims, attending to his chores, minding his own business, which consists of being a handyman on a 100-acre estate.

The hill where he lives is 632 feet above sea level and from it he can see miles and miles around him. Many of these miles are inhabited by commuters, who spend their lives trying to win the New York rat race, a race which has made doctors, lawyers and undertakers rich.

Tashua Hill, Lamale writes, has been kept unspoiled in its natural beauty for hundreds of years. Civilization has by-passed it and left it magnificent. "Cedars grow wild at the top; stone fences originally built by slaves and mended by Ben, lace the crown. The northern slope is a hayfield in the summer. Below the crest on the south is the cabin in a thicket of pine, and beyond are clusters of apple, pear, plum and other fruit trees pruned and cultivated by him throughout the years. Deer, rabbits, foxes, pheasants and other wildlife dart in the brush. Crows wheel overhead."

Tashua Hill was named after Sam Tashua, the Indian chief.

Ben told the reporter, who gave up the hill and 500 acres of land for a jug of whiskey and a stovepipe hat.

What a fool this Indian chief was, you may say, to give up so much property now worth many thousands, for a jug of whiskey and a stovepipe hat!

Yet, don't all these New York City pilgrims give up their whole life for just about the equivalent of a bottle of whiskey and a top hat?

What Tools ye mortals be!

Firm Suspends Operations In Panther Valley

Lansford, Pa. — Lehigh Navigation Coal Co. yesterday suspended indefinitely all its anthracite mining operations in the Panther Creek Valley.

The announcement came from the Philadelphia office of the company. There was no indication of how long the suspension might continue, and the company declined to amplify the brief announcement at this time.

The shutdown will affect about 5,000 workers, and was due, the company said, to "excessive operating losses."

United Mine Workers officials were notified of the decision yesterday morning, the company reported.

Panther Creek Valley, long a famous anthracite area, lies in Carbon and Schuylkill counties. Lehigh Navigation, the producing subsidiary of Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., has been the only major operator in the area. Employment afterward reached a total of 6,500 men, and at that time the mines often operated on a 6-day work week basis.

Production in this area—like the entire anthracite field—has been curtailed sharply in recent years. Stockholders of Lehigh Coal and Navigation were told last week that the company had a net loss of $130,861 in the first three months of this year, despite a "severe economy program" which included reductions in productive capacity at the mines, lowered executive salaries and a cut in the number of employees.

In the first quarter of 1953, Lehigh Coal and Navigation reported a net loss of $627,954.

Included in the economies cited by the company was a reduction of operating districts so that the former Lansford district was combined with the Nesquehoning and Tamaqua districts.

One part of this plan included suspension of mining in the Lansford area but this was set aside as the result of improved production per man-hour affected by the workers. Lansford mines worked three days last week, shipping coal to the Coldale district breaker. The company's Nesquehoning mine was closed April 1.

Joseph Harps Taking Part In Maneuver

Camp Pickett, Va. — Lt. Col. Joseph F. Harps, whose wife, Helen, lives in Chappells, S. C., is one of 4,600 officers and enlisted men taking part in the Army's giant logistical maneuver, LOGEX-54, at Camp Pickett, Va., this week.

Student officers and soldiers from the schools of the Army's technical and administrative services will work under simulated combat conditions to perform all the paper work necessary to support operations of a 400,000-man army.

Col. Harps, a student at the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., graduated from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College in 1940 and entered the Army in 1941. Son of Mrs. George A. Harps, Route 2, Stroudsburg, Pa., he is a veteran of World War II service in the Asiatic-Pacific theater.

A/3c Robert L. Johnson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Miller of Anadomink, has entered the USAF Technical School for Aircraft Mechanics at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas, the largest school of this type in the world.

During his specialized training as a student at Sheppard he will receive intensive training designed to provide him with the thorough knowledge and basic skills required in servicing, inspecting and maintaining aircraft currently used by the United States Air Force.

Upon graduation he will be awarded the rating of airplane and engine mechanic. Along with the majority of graduates in his class, he will enter a course for advanced training or will be assigned to one of the major Air Force commands for on-the-job experience with first-line operational aircraft after completion of his schooling at Sheppard Air Force Base.

Prior to his enlistment on Aug. 13, 1953, Airman Johnson was graduated from the East Stroudsburg High School.

Charles Loney Discusses Topic

"The Emblem of Liberty, Loyalty and Love" was discussed by Charles Loney at the Seventh Day Adventist Church on Sunday night.

He pointed out that followers of Christ are divided on which day of the week to observe the Sabbath, even though the same Bible has been given to all Christians.

"We must have positive Bible proof for every single Christian practice we believe in or else some day it will all come to naught," Mr. Loney said.

The subject for consideration next Sunday night will be "Why Do Protestants Keep Sunday?"

Barrett School Music Groups To Give Concert Friday Night

Cresco—The band and chorus of Barrett School will present their annual spring concert on Friday at 8:15 p. m., in the school auditorium.

The first part of the program will consist of selections by the Girls' Chorus. Included in the vocal portion will be two Waring arrangements: "This Is My Country" and the Pennsylvania Dutch version of the German folk tune, "Spin, Spin, My Darling Daughter."

A novelty arrangement of "Chop Sticks" and the Stephen Foster song, "Some Folks" will contrast with the more serious songs of the program.

The choral portion will conclude with a Harry Robert Wilson arrangement of the popular and much-loved "I Believe."

The band will perform during the second half of the concert. Two marches to be performed by the band are "The Seventh Regiment" and "Sons of America."

Other selections by the band are: "On the Trail" from the Grand Canyon Suite by Ferde Grofe, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude in C Minor" and "Pavane Pour Une Infante Defunte" by Maurice Ravel.

Numbers in the lighter vein will include Torok's "Mexican Joe" and "Begin the Beguine" by Cole Porter.

This year will be the first time both organizations will appear in uniform. The chorus of fifty recently received its gowns and will make its first public appearance in them at the concert this spring.

The band was uniformed last year. This year it has augmented the reed section and has purchased over a thousand dollars worth of new instruments, according to Martin Peiffer, supervisor of music.

Another new piece of equipment to be used for the first time will be a Steinway piano.

Tickets may be purchased from students and at the door Friday night.

Scranton Man Convicted On Speed Count

A Scranton man said yesterday he was speeding his sick father to the doctor—but he was found guilty anyway at a county court hearing.

Leonard Weiss was ordered to pay a $10 fine and costs, and his license will be reviewed for possible suspension.

Appearing without counsel, Weiss heard Trooper C. W. Heist of Mount Pocono review the details: speeding 65 miles an hour on Route 611 about 8:15 p.m. April 5. Trooper James Riley gave the same testimony.

Weiss then took the stand in his own defense. He said his father was afflicted with an intestinal ailment and had suffered an attack. Weiss admitted speeding, but said he was rushing his father to the doctor in Scranton. The father followed Weiss to the stand and repeated the story.

But in answer to a question from President Judge Fred W. Davis, Weiss said no, he hadn't mentioned his sick father to Trooper Heist at the time of arrest.

"The court is sympathetic," said Judge Davis. "But the law is definite . . . and we must operate under the law. It seems to us if you had a good excuse, that was the time to bring it up . . . not later." He then sentenced Weiss.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Though Roy Mikols didn't say so last night in speaking about people who weren't doing their share in the blood donor program, he could have pointed the finger at women in general.

It's a queer thing, but while most women are scared to give even once, the ones who do give often become the most prolific givers of all. The worst part is the initial hurdle. When they learn how simple it is, and what a fuss everybody makes over you — why they're eager to give again.

Actually, you'd expect that women would outstrip men in general. It's the women who head the door-to-door canvassing, the women's clubs which initiate social agencies, the women who give the suppers and quilt the quilts to support their fire companies and church groups.

It's the women, too, who serve as volunteers as nurses, first aid, home nursing, canteen, motor corps, registration and all the rest. Which makes it all the more strange that they boggle at the idea of giving a pint of blood which is far less tiring and far more rewarding than any of the other activities.

What I'd like to see sometime would be an all-woman donor day.

Listen To — Bobby Westbrook daily, Monday through Friday, on "The Party Line" WFO, 10:15 a.m.

Womans Club Board Meets At Year-end

Year-end activities of the Stroudsburg Woman's Club in the field of welfare, club programs and federation work were discussed at the meeting of the executive board held yesterday afternoon at the Stroud Community House with Mrs. Walter H. Caulfield presiding.

In the welfare field, the board voted to give $10 to the Monroe County chapter of the American Cancer Society. During the past year 150 babies have visited the Well Baby Clinics in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. Mrs. Parke Kunkle, welfare chairman, reported in telling of the 7 in Stroudsburg and 13 in East Stroudsburg who came for check-ups during the past month.

Mrs. Kunkle also reported that the Monroe County Heart Advisory Committee had been organized and is composed of both laymen and doctors.

The work of distributing health material for the coming X-ray campaign has been practically completed. In both boroughs, it was announced by Mrs. Foster Minnich, general chairman of the canvass. Mrs. Alford Meyers and Mrs. Eli Travis, co-chairmen in East Stroudsburg, announced that the help of 150 women had been enlisted in both boroughs.

Mrs. Robert Hellmann, chairman of the clearing house committee for dates for local affairs, reported progress in setting up the calendar.

The board voted to cooperate with the blood donor recruitment campaign.

In announcing plans for the final club program of the year on May 10, Mrs. Claude Leister said that it would be devoted to the American home with Miss Elsie Cain, representative of George Jensen, speaking on "How a Scandinavian Interprets Silver." Mrs. Ernest H. Wyckoff, Mrs. Elwood Hintz, and Mrs. Fred J. Trumbour are co-hostesses.

Mrs. Howard Eckert, Mrs. E. H. Calkins were appointed to the nominating committee.

In federation affairs, Mrs. Caulfield called attention to the fact that Mrs. Foster Minnich, a member of the board and former president of the Stroudsburg club, had been elected Federation president at the Spring meeting. She congratulated the Junior Women's Club who last month served as hostesses to the seniors.

Mrs. Caulfield and Mrs. Leister were named as delegates to the state convention to be held in Philadelphia May 17 to 19. The general federation meeting will be held in Denver, Colo. May 31 to June 4, it was announced.

There were 16 members of the board present.

Mission Class Plans Trip To Bronx Zoo

The regular monthly meeting of The Friendly Class of the Fifth St. Presbyterian Mission was held at the mission on Friday. Plans were completed for the class trip to the Bronx Zoo on Saturday, May 15. Transportation will be arranged by John Neipert, Pierre Lake and William Barry.

The "white elephant" auction to be sponsored by the class will be held May 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Barry. The auction will take the place of the next meeting.

The devotional period was in charge of Barbara Garis. She read the Scripture story of Jonah and the whale and then informed the group that there has been at least one other instance, occurring in 1891, in which a man was swallowed by a whale and lived to relate his experience. She substantiated her story by reading the testimony of the man and the verification by witnesses and rescuers.

Those serving on the refreshment committee for the evening were Mildred Kintner, Barbara Garis and Eunice Reaser. Since one of the class members, Barbara Garis, celebrated her birthday during the past week, the refreshments were in her honor. Barbara was also pleasantly surprised when the group presented her with many gifts in appreciation of her services as teacher in the beginners' class.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Neipert and daughter, Susie; Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Lake and children Johnny and Ruthie; Mr. and Mrs. William Barry; Herbert Pooley; James Bradshaw; Gladys Marsh; and the Misses Mildred Kintner, Eunice Reaser and Barbara Garis.

Betty Dunbar Is Bride Of W. F. Pritchard

Bangor — The Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church, Bangor, was the scene of the May Day wedding of Miss Betty Mae June Dunbar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dunbar, of 136 Washington St., Bangor, to Wynfield F. Pritchard, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Pritchard of Wind Gap.

The wedding was performed at 4 p. m. by Rev. A. M. Herman with the wedding music played by the organist, Richard Rader. The church was decorated with white carnations and ferns with white satin ribbons at the end of the pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length strapless gown of Belgium lace and nylon tulle over satin with a spencer jacket of lace. Her fingertip veil of illusion net was attached to a lace crown trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a Bible covered with satin and lace with an orchid and streamers of sweetpeas.

Mrs. Stanley W. Schade, of N. Northampton St., Bangor, was matron of honor, and wore a ballerina length gown of blue Chantilly lace and nylon net with a matching lace jacket and pixie bonnet. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

Clark Pritchard of Easton served as his brother's best man, and the ushers included Clark P. Smith, of Northampton, and Stanley W. Schade of Bangor.

A reception was held in the Sunday School auditorium before the couple left on a wedding trip.

May Day Coronation Friday At School in Newfoundland

Newfoundland—A capacity crowd is expected to witness the coronation ceremony of the Greene-Inher-Sterling School's 12th annual May Day festival in the high school auditorium Friday at 2 p. m.

Named queen in a school-wide election, Miss Shirley Bartleson will be crowned by Miss Lois Basler, the 1953 queen, and will then be entertained by her subjects in a program of singing and dancing. She will also be a central figure along with her "king" in the annual May Day ball which will be held at 8:45 p. m.

The queen's court will be made-up of girls of the senior class. She will be attended by Audrey Olsson, crown bearer; Veronica Farrell, train bearer; Elaine Butler, Barbara Burke and Barbara Lee, flower girls.

Theme of the afternoon program will be "Waltz Time," adapted from an opera of the same name. Continuity for the program was written by Charlotte Robacker, narration will be by Susan Hart.

Girls of the ninth, 10th and 11th grades will perform a series of four dances, including the traditional May pole dance. Seventh

Comunale-De Maria Wedding

Bangor — Miss Mary Rose De-Maria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat De Maria, of 564 Fairview Ave., Bangor, became the bride of Frank Paul Comunale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Comunale of Bangor RD 1 on Sunday, May 2 at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church Roseto.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a cathedral length gown of lace and nylon pleated tulle with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls. There were lace inserts in the bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of imported orange blossoms and she carried a corsage of gardenia and lily-of-the-valley.

Rita Coppiolano was maid of honor. She wore a gown of yellow nylon tulle over taffeta with a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

Thomas A. Feellan of Long Island City was best man. Mrs. Thomas Ronco was organist and Theresa Capozzola was organist.

A reception was held in the Bangor American Legion Home, decorated with white and yellow crepe paper and wedding bells.

After a wedding trip through the southern states, Mr. and Mrs. Comunale will make their home at 569 Grand Ave., Bangor. They both are graduates of Bangor High School. The bride is employed by Bangor Clothing Inc. and the bridegroom is engaged in farming.

To Honor Gold Stars

The Gold Star Mothers will be the guests of the American Legion Auxiliary of George N. Kemp Post at their meeting Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Home. During the business meeting, officers will be nominated for the next year.

Garden Club Board

The Monroe County Garden Club executive board will meet Thursday at 2:15 p.m. at the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

I like my job—I meet such interesting people. The latest is Barbara, mischievous, adorable heroine of Harry Bell's book "We Adopted a Daughter" which arrived on my desk last week with compliments of the Houghton Mifflin Company.

As a matter of fact, Barbara and I had met briefly once before, when her story was a highly intriguing article, appearing in the Saturday Evening Post. She proved to be a fascinating miss, all the more appealing because, in some strange way, I had a better understanding of my own children while reading about her.

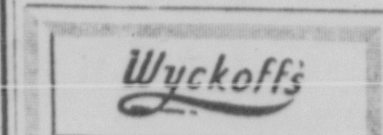

Have you ever looked deep into the eyes of a dog and thought, "How oddly human his eyes are. They seem to hold all the yearning and puzzlement one so often finds in the folks about him?" Crazy thought? Maybe. But it is one that recurs to me time and again. And that's how it is with a child. You hear of her doubts, fears, adorable trickery, and colorful imaginings from the lips or pen of a doting parent, and you think, "All children are pretty much the same after all. Mine are no cuter, no more or less intelligent, no better or worse mannered, no more fearful or courageous than the average child of their age." It isn't odd then that one can better evaluate and solve her own problems when noting how another parent has handled identical, puzzling situations.

In his book Mr. Bell states bluntly that, as a parent by adoption, his greatest resentment is against those who gush, "What a lovely child—and wasn't it wonderful of you to take her?" His denial of philanthropy is emphatic. The Bells were not motivated by charity, he protests. His Peggy and he adopted Barbara because they are a basically selfish, run-of-the-mill couple who felt a void in their childless marriage. This point clarified, Mr. Bell proceeds to discuss the ways and means by which the void was filled. Step by step one struggles with the red tape involved in adopting a child. Step by step one enjoys the resultant reward.

We first see Barbara at the age of two and a half, a strong-willed, mischievous child with a fixed idea as to whom she will love and whom she will rebuff. We watch her instant acceptance of her new Daddy and her rather reluctant acceptance of her new Mother. Through Mr. Bell's words, we glory in the gradual crumbling of the last barriers between strangeness and complete family unity.

This, according to the publisher, is Harry Bell's first attempt at writing for publication. It is this fact, no doubt, that makes his story so delightful. There is no attempt to impress with flowery phrases; to create a literary style, or to live up to an established name... just an obvious loving effort to tell a true story simply and sincerely.

"We Adopted a Daughter" is a book to be read by everyone who has ever taken a child into his heart and home, either through natural processes or legal measures, or who cherishes dreams of someday doing so. It is a book that rewards you with many a smile, and a very welcome tug at the heart-strings. Thank you, Houghton Mifflin!

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Ray Steele, former baseball and basketball performer at East Stroudsburg High, lost his first game as a pitcher for Lancaster, of the class "B" Piedmont League. Ray dropped a 1-3 decision when he ran into trouble in the ninth inning. It began raining in the eighth frame and Ray ran into a carload of trouble in the ninth. Both teams entered the final inning tied at 3-3. Lancaster's left fielder dropped a fly to open the frame and Ray issued his second walk of the game to the next batter. The third hitter dumped a bunt down the third base line and Steele slipped on the wet turf while trying to field the ball.

Kemp Wicker, Lancaster manager, replaced Steele and on the first pitch by the relief hurler the batter hit a slow roller to second base and the winning run crossed the plate. Steele pitched five innings against the Philadelphia A's in an exhibition recently, giving up two runs in the first frame and following with four scoreless innings. Eddie Joost singled, went to second on a wild pitch, moved to third on a slow roller by Vic Power and crossed the plate on another wild throw by Steele. Ray had a count of two strikes and one ball on big Gus Zernial, when the latter caught hold of a low breaking curve and slammed a mighty home run. Steele was the master for the next four frames.

Ray is well pleased with his control of late and has developed a slider to go with his regular stuff. Bob Hallet, Pocono pitcher, gave the remainder of the Monroe County League a mark at which to shoot last Friday, when he retired 17 Coolbaugh batters on strikes. On the other side of the ledger Chestnuthill set an offensive target by hanging out 28 base hits against Tobyhanna Township, on the latter's home field. The Varsity "S" Club at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will present Fred Gabres with a handsome plaque. Gabres was named to the All-America soccer team last fall.

The final score of last Saturday's track meet was 79-47 and not 79-74 as it turned out in Monday's paper. Art Wall plans to return to his home in Honesdale, and maybe visit Pocono Manor, next Monday or Tuesday. Art, who picked up only $200 in the recent San Francisco Open, credits his ancient putter with winning the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, Nev. late last month. Art also claims that he discovered a flaw in his swing just prior to the Las Vegas tournament, while visiting his Honesdale home. Wall is scheduled to play in the Ardmore Open, at Ardmore, Okla., this week.

Dick Person, who blanked powerful Lake Harmony for nine innings on Sunday before the Harmony crew topped West End with three runs in the 10th frame, is a former Palmyerton High hurler. In fact, Dick is the hurler Stroudsburg defeated in 1951, when the Mountaineers defeated Palmyerton for the Lehigh Valley League championship. Dick, a resident of Little Gap, pitched Junior American Legion ball in Mauch Chunk last summer. Person pitched the entire 10 innings against Lake Harmony, despite the fact that he suffered a badly twisted ankle while running to first base in the eighth frame.

This reporter was very sorry to hear that Bill Frear had resigned as manager of Pocono A. C., the Monroe County entry in the Blue Mountain League. Bill has labored very hard during the past two years, both in working with the team and representing his club at league meetings. He gave of his time and talent unselfishly and certainly could have been treated better by members of his club. The breaking point came last Sunday when Pocono A. C. didn't have enough players to meet Rose to in an exhibition contest. This column wishes Tom Somers, the new pilot, the best of luck in the coming campaign.

ESSTC's 22-11 baseball victory over Kutztown last Saturday was truly a wild affair. Byrd Stoudt, Normal Hill right fielder, lashed three shots over the short right field fence for doubles. Guido DeTorrice accounted for only one hit in the wild affair, but the ESSTC catcher's lone safety was a triple smashed in the third inning with the bases completely populated. ESSTC used every player making the trip.

Ray VanBenscoten, who first became interested in baseball a couple of years ago with the Newfoundland Bears and proved to be quite a hitting and fielding sensation, has joined the Hawley Red Sox, of the Wayne County League. Ray had first agreed to play with Barrett, of the Pocono Mountains League, but later changed his mind to rejoin Dick Dunning, "Smoky" Cycosky and Jack Dunning, former Newfoundland teammates. "Buck" Hutchins, former pitcher and catcher with Newfoundland, dropped a 9-3 decision to Hawley recently while pitching for Waymart. Dick Dunning had three hits and Cycosky two in the contest.

East Stroudsburg High Entertains Pen Argyl Today

Cavaliers Search For Second Win

East Stroudsburg High School returns to the Lehigh-Northampton League baseball wars today, when Pen Argyl invades East Stroudsburg Playground. The contest is slated to get underway at 4 p. m.

The Cavaliers will be searching for their second circuit win of the current campaign to go with a lone defeat. At the present time the pupils of Coach Jack Kist own a verdict over Parkland and dropped a 4-3 decision to Nazareth last Friday.

Kist announced last night that he would stick with his usual lineup, with the possibility of one exception. The exception may be in left field where Helmut Gartner, a freshman, may replace Bob "Red" Kupiszewski.

Kupiszewski's status probably won't be known until almost game time. The fly chaser suffered a bad case of sun poisoning on Saturday and required medical treatment yesterday. There is a distinct possibility that Kupiszewski will be physically unable to play today.

The remainder of the East Stroudsburg outfield will feature Don Herman in center and Charley "Snooky" Lifts in right field. Bob "Booter" Miller will handle the catching duties, while the infield shapes up with Bill Pensyl at first base; Dick Gray, second base; Harold White, shortstop, and Gene Plaza, third base.

Bill Sommers, hard working right hander who had a record of one win and one loss this season, will again be on the firing line for the Cavaliers.

Pen Argyl has lost both league outings to date.

East Stroudsburg battles powerful Coplay on Friday, at Coplay. This battle is also listed for 4 p. m.

Keglers Hold Loop Banquet

Phillipsburg, N. J.—Norton Oil, 1953-54 champion of the Delaware Valley Bowling League, was rewarded with the championship trophy on Saturday night as the circuit held its annual post-season banquet. The affair was held at the Phillipsburg Elks Lodge.

The championship trophy was presented by George Nennig, one of the original bowlers in the circuit.

Individual
Doug Hawk, Capuro's Cities Service, was rewarded as the top individual average kegler. Jack Darr, Crowe's Insurance, was second in this division. Each bettered the 196 mark, but Hawk won the prize by 31 pins.

Chet Williams, Pat's Kiddie Shop was third in the average race and Jake Nittel, Crowe's, finished fourth with a 192 mark.

George Guecker, Central Bowling Academy of Bethlehem, rolled a high mark of 749, while Howard "Howie" Kutz, Nortons, had a high single of 289.

Crowe's Insurance finished second and Pat's Kiddie Shop third in the final standings.

A total of 90 people were present, 19 of which were members of Crowe's Insurance, Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe was also present.

Cartier Gains Nod Over Dykes

Brooklyn, N. Y. (AP)—Walter Cartier, unranked middleweight from New York, outslugged Bobby Dykes of Miami, Fla., last night to win a 10-round split decision at the Eastern Parkway Arena. Cartier weighed 161, Dykes 159.

Presses
Cartier, a six and one-half to five favorite, pressed throughout the fight using left hooks to the head and body. Dykes tied him up frequently but the New Yorker drove home hard lefts in the fighting that kept the 10th-ranked middleweight off balance.

Francis' Number To Be Retired

Rio Grande, Ohio (AP)—The athletic council at Rio Grande College yesterday voted to retire number 32 worn by basketball's record-breaker "Bevo" Francis, who recently signed with the Boston Whirlwinds.

ESSTC Lists Tennis Match

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will send its girls' tennis team in search of victory number three today when the Warriorettes play host to Moravian College, on the Normal Hill courts. Action gets under way at 3:15 p. m.

Postponed
This match was originally slated for last Wednesday but was postponed because of rain.

ESSTC owns favorable decisions over Ursinus and Drexel thus far this season.

Liljenstein Returned To Teachers Conference Office

Harrisburg—Oscar J. Liljenstein, director of athletics at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and vice president of the Pennsylvania State Teachers College Athletic Conference, was one of four officials returned to office for a third term.

The re-election took place at the semi-annual meeting of the organization at the Penn-Harris Hotel yesterday.

Other officials re-elected were George P. Miller, Indiana, president; John A. Hoch, Bloomsburg, secretary-treasurer, and Merle Agnello, Johnstown, statistician.

The group suggested a stricter enforcement of its by-laws on eligibility of athletes who sign professional contracts.

Suggestion
Representatives of 14 teachers colleges attending the meeting suggested that the conference's board of presidents automatically rule ineligible for conference competition any person who signs a professional contract whether or not the athlete receives money.

The meeting also decided to recommend a ruling that students be allowed to participate in teachers college sports for eight semesters and four years only. It also asked the board of presidents for more rigid enforcement of the ban against post season games now in effect.

Other action saw appointment of Vince Rambo, Shippensburg, as chairman of a committee to look further into central scheduling of sports events by conference members. The committee will report at the conference's next meeting in December.

Williams Takes Batting Practice
Boston (AP)—Ted Williams went through his first heavy batting practice with the Boston Red Sox squad yesterday amid hints that the injured slugger may be ready to pinch hit in games with Washington this weekend.

Swings Hard
Williams swung hard on pitches offered by Tom Brewer, Bill Henry, Tom Merrin and Coach Paul Schreiber during a drill in the Harvard batting cage and observers commented that he did not once favor his injured shoulder.

Purse May Be Increased
Louisville, Ky. (AP)—A report that the Kentucky Derby purse will be increased from $100,000 to $150,000 next year "might be right," Churchill Downs President Bill Corum said yesterday.

Church Bowlers Hold Dinner
Bushkill—A gathering of 60 people featured the annual post-season banquet of the East Stroudsburg Church League last night, here at the Club Fernwood.

Teams in the league and with membership present last night were Holy Name, St. Matthew's, East Stroudsburg Methodist, Grace Lutheran, Presbyterian and Temple Israel.

Among the honored guests were Father Francis Barrett, St. Matthew's; Rev. Harold Eaton, East Stroudsburg Methodist; Rev. William Wunder, Grace Lutheran, and Rabbi William Fiervwerker, Temple Israel.

Cardinals Top Giants
St. Louis (AP)—Vic Raschi scattered seven hits and Ray Jablonski hammered out a three-run homer last night to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to an 8-2 victory over the New York Giants.

Reasoning
Molter pointed out that Determine had won seven stakes races out of eight starts, losing only to Hasty Road, in the record-breaking time of one minute, 35 seconds in the Derby trial last Tuesday, but defeating Hasty Road in the big race last Saturday.

Jockey Ray York, astride the Alhambra, Calif., horse in the Derby, started the long drive back to the west with his wife yesterday.

The decision of the owner and trainer, announced yesterday morning, surprised turfdom.

Henning Wins Tournament At Bangor

Bangor — Les Henning, well known veteran kegler in this area, won the Slate Belt Singles Championship which ended here at the Slate Belt Bowling Center on Sunday. The tournament was a month-long affair.

Henning finished with a total of 6278 pins and a final count of 144 and 28-50th points under the Peterson point system. Bob Schultz finished second with a total wood score of 6255 and a total point mark of 141 and three-fifths points.

Third Place
Vern Parsons was third with 6123 pins and a final score of 138 and 23-50th points. Jim Malazzo came home in fourth place with 6159 pins and a final tabulation of 138 and nine-50th points.

The four remaining keggers and scores include Ed Ferretti, 5824, 133 24-50th points; Bob Knecht, 5829, 131 29-50th points; Bill Shipman, 5796, 130 six-50th points; and Jim Dietz, 5572, 124 47-50th points.

Pirates Assign Hurler

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday reported Andy Hansen, a righthanded pitcher returned to the Bucs by Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League, has been assigned outright to New Orleans in the Southern Association.

Besecker's Club Downs Kulp's Foundry
At Besecker's Diner scored five runs in the sixth and final inning to earn a 7-4 decision over Kulp's Foundry in a Monroe County Softball League contest last night. The game, halted after six innings by rain, was played at Stroudsburg Playground.

Another contest, between Jack's Market and Kepler's Laundry, was halted after four frames by rain at Gordon Giffels field with the Market nine in front, 8-7. But since the game was halted short of its official mark it will not count in the standings and will be entirely replayed on Friday.

Kulp's club scored two runs in the fifth frame to lead going into the sixth, last inning, but Besecker's power decided the issue in the visiting half of the final frame. The score was 2-2 after two full frames.

Today's schedule calls for Worthington Mower and Ransom IAM to clash at Stroudsburg Playground, while Empire Box and the Eagles meet at Giffels field.

Box score follows:

White Sox Pound A's Behind Two-Hit Job By Consuegra

Philadelphia (AP)—Righthander Sandy Consuegra retired the first 19 Philadelphia batters to face him yesterday before giving up the only two Athletic hits to "Spook" Jacobs as Sandy's Chicago White Sox teammates pounded four pitchers for 17 hits and a 14-3 triumph at Connie Mack Stadium.

Consuegra had the A's batsmen baffled and only four balls were hoisted to the outfield in the first full six innings.

In the seventh, after Joe DeMaestri had grounded out to shortstop, Jacobs stepped into the batter's box. "Spook" had gone hitless in his last 22 trips to the plate when boom—

Line Double
It was a line double into short left field and the Consuegra spell was broken. He retired the next five batters easily but in the ninth relaxed and gave up three runs.

Carl Scheib started for the A's and was relieved by Art Ditmar. He lasted just one inning before Bobby Shantz took over, his first appearance since an arm injury sidelined him early this season. Little Bobby was the victim of a five-run Chicago rally in the fifth, giving up six hits, but three Philadelphia errors—one by Shantz himself—didn't help his cause.

Cass Michaels hit a two-run homer, the game's only four-bagger. Bill Upton finished for the A's. Chicago — 108 005 000—14 17 2 Phila. — 000 000 003—3 2 3

Campy To Undergo Surgery

New York (AP)—Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's star catcher who was ordered to the bench yesterday for his failure to hit, finally has decided to undergo surgery for the broken bone in his left wrist.

Campy, hitting only .167, chipped the bone seven weeks ago during an exhibition game with the Yankees at Miami. When doctors told him it might heal even if he kept playing, he stayed in uniform.

But yesterday he said the wrist is no better, and after Dodger Manager Walt Alton decided to pull him from the lineup, Campanella said he would seek treatment.

Hospital
He flew here from Milwaukee last night and will enter Long Island College Hospital tomorrow. Campanella said Dr. Herb Felt would operate. He added that he expects to be out of action three or four weeks.

Gil Hodges, Dodger first baseman, underwent an examination by a Milwaukee physician yesterday and was advised to continue playing.

Freeman To Head Bangor Bowling League

Bangor—Officers for next season and awards for this season's achievements were made at the annual banquet of the State Belt Class "B" Men's Bowling League held last Friday night at the Forks Valley Firehouse.

Elwood Freeman was elected president; Robert Barlett, vice president; and Donald Weaver was returned to the post of secretary-treasurer. Merlin Tucker served as chairman of the nominating committee. The elected officers had no opposition.

Awards were made to teams and individuals in the 16-team league. Ship and Shore, the regular season champion, was presented a trophy with names of the team members inscribed on it. The Bangor Bowling Association presented American Bowling Congress chevrons to each member of the championship team. They are: A. J. Zanette, John A. Zanette, Angelo Zanette, Joe Brevasin, Vince Tannella, Vic Salvador, and Frank Bubba. The team was also presented a certificate.

High Team
Ship and Shore also received the award for the season's high team match with 2763 and Capitol State entry received the prize for the high team game of 1012.

Individual awards went to Art Kromer, of Pen Argyl, for the season's high individual match of 644 and to Roy Albert, of Miller Auto Co., for the high individual game score of 261. Vernon Roberts, of Capitol State, to second high triple with 627 and Ed Reimer, of Stateford Hotel, second high single of 217.

Bob Harrington, of Bangor Lumber team, was presented a trophy by Les Henning, president of the Bangor Bowling Association, for the highest individual average of 180.18. Second place went to J. T. Dally with his 175.24 average and third-place award to Merlin Tucker, of Florio Trucking with 172.57.

Monroe County League To Feature Three Diamond Tilts

A full slate of three games is on tap for the Monroe County League today, two getting under way at 2 p. m. and the other one hour later. Pocono and Barrett, both winners in their opening tussles, collide head-on at Barrett, at 3 p. m.

Rain Halts Stroudsburg

Rain and wet grounds raised havoc with a scheduled Lehigh Valley League baseball game between Stroudsburg and Whitehall yesterday and it was postponed for a third time. It will now be played tomorrow, at Whitehall, at 4 p. m.

The contest was originally listed for last Tuesday, but was rained out and rescheduled for Wednesday. Rain forced postponement on Wednesday and it was rescheduled for yesterday. The weatherman put the damper on things once again yesterday.

Babe Ruth Loop To Drill

All boys between the ages of 13 and 15 years interested in playing in the Babe Ruth League of the Stroudsburgs this summer are urged to attend a practice session at Gordon Ciffels field today.

Drills are slated to get underway at 6 p. m.

Ages
Gene Martin, president of the circuit, announced last night that any boy born prior to August 1, 1941 and after August 1, 1938, is eligible to play.

Stroudsburg Little League will hold a tryout session at its official Little League field tomorrow, at 6 p. m. This league is open to boys between the ages of eight and 12.

Minor League Baseball

Eastern League
Allentown at Reading (rain), only game scheduled.

Red Cross To Revamp Blood-Donor Program

Revamping of the Red Cross blood donor program was discussed last night by a committee of 22 at a conference with LeRoy Mikels, Mr. Mikels has been chairman of the county blood program since its inception in 1950. The committee has as its immediate objective the wiping out of Monroe County's quota deficit by the end of the donor year on July 1.

As a long-range objective, the committee plans to recommend a system which would share the burden of giving blood among more people.

Mr. Mikels hailed the success of the county program since its start, but pointed out that, after five years, a new approach is needed.

Since 1950, he said, Monroe County has contributed 6,334 pints of blood, the gift of 5,200 different individuals.

"The burden of the blood donor program has fallen too heavily on industry," he said. "The sponsoring groups have done wonderful service, but each of them turns to the large industrial plants as the easiest and quickest way of recruiting donors."

Meanwhile, he said, potential donors in rural areas, small businesses and homes are not being asked to give, although they share equally in the benefits from the local program which provides blood without cost to anyone who needs it.

The most immediate problem considered by the group was how

Group Asks Referendum On Jointure

Bangor—Washington Township school directors were asked last night to place on the November election ballot the question of township jointure.

This latest move in the Slate Belt jointure discussions, was offered by a Citizens Committee with Theodore Schwanda, an accountant, as spokesman for the committee.

Attorney Everett Kent, solicitor for the directors, explained that Washington board has had three offers. He listed them as:

Jointure of Bangor, Roseto and Washington Township; jointure of Washington, Upper and Lower Mt. Bethel Townships, East Bangor and Portland; and jointure of all seven districts.

Kent said that a series of mass meetings should be arranged. At these meetings taxpayers should be presented with all the facts, figures and all facets of jointure.

Out of these facts, he said, could come findings on which the matter of placing the question of an election ballot could be determined.

Mr. Kent said Washington directors had submitted a list of 12 questions to the Bangor School board.

He said the only replay has been "a loosely and incoherent something."

"They have not answered a single question," he charged.

At one point Mr. Kent said: "It is evident that citizens groups are here to engage in controversy. Well, there isn't going to be any."

The solicitor also noted reports of a move to remove some of the Washington Board members and said, "We don't propose to be kicked around."

Washington directors granted the Citizens Committee use of a meeting room for a meeting Thursday night when Robert Taylor, Northampton County superintendent of schools and a representative of Department of Public Instruction will explain jointures, mergers and unions of school districts.

Church Board Files Protest With Council
Bangor—Trustees of the old Welsh Congregational Church last night filed a protest with Borough Council here over plans to utilize portions of the site of the old church for modernization of the First and Market St. intersection.

The church is no longer on the site. It was one of the old buildings of worship in the community and trustees dedicated the tract to the borough.

In their letter of protest, filed by Attorney Richard Kitter, their counsel, the trustees reminded council that the land was given under these conditions:

"That no use be made of the plot for commercial purposes; that the borough erect a suitable memorial plaque commemorating the old church."

The protest noted that the borough accepted the tract under these conditions.

Plans to cut away a portion of the tract for the street improvement for curb, gutters and sidewalks, conflict with these conditions, trustees maintained. Installation of parking meters could be construed as use of the land for commercial purposes, they held.

John L. Correll, council president said action will be withheld on bids on the project. A committee and Bangor solicitor will meet with church trustees and their attorney in an effort to bring about an amicable settlement, Mr. Correll said.

Slate Industry Discussed At Guidance Session

Bangor — The slate industry formed the basis of a vocational guidance conference in the library of Bangor high school yesterday.

Paul LaBar, member of the faculty and former slate quarry superintendent, acted as consultant for 25 boys attending the conference.

Major interest centered in employment possibilities, and types of jobs available.

Discussions were supplemented by a film on slating operation at North Bangor Slate Quarry. It was made available by Charles A. Smith, president of North Bangor Co.

Four Couples Apply To Wed

Four couples applied for marriage licenses, records showed yesterday at the office of Prothonotary James Gould.

They were Ernest E. Papillon, East Stroudsburg RD3, and Mary White, Bronx, N. Y.; Richard D. Storm, Pocono Summit, and Eleanor M. Matlock, East Stroudsburg; Richard A. Schmidt, Stroudsburg RD2, and Marjorie A. Maynard, East Stroudsburg; and Charles L. Landis, Tannersville, and Sarah A. Motz, Stroudsburg.

Rod-Gun Club Awards Life Memberships

Roseto—Thirty life memberships in Roseto Rod and Gun Club were presented outstanding citizens Saturday night when the organization held its annual banquet at Ye Saylor's Inn, Saylorburg.

Dr. Benjamin Falcons of Bangor was the main speaker. John Cistone, committee chairman was toastmaster and Arlington Vrontis, club president, gave the welcome. Rev. Charles J. Starzer, offered prayers.

Club officers were introduced, as well as Harvey Neff, county fish warden; Harold Wiggins, game warden and several county political candidates.

Slides of the club's project in building a lake north of Route 90 in the borough limits were shown by Michael Till.

The occasion culminated a day-long program for the Gun Club members. At 9 a.m. about 450 youngsters lined the banks of the new lake to compete for prizes. Top award went to Alfred Derenzis who caught a 19-inch rainbow trout five minutes after the contest opened. Philip Menecola was chairman of the tourney.

East Borough High School Band Wins Superior Rating; Two Choruses Rate Excellent

East Stroudsburg High School's music department, from band through choruses, came off with high honors at the Pennsylvania Music and Forensic League's finalist contest at Williamsport during the weekend.

The high school band, under direction of Clement Wiedmeyer won a coveted "superior" rating. Competition for this band, which has won a number of state championships in Class B division in the past, was keen.

Wilmerding and Montrose bands also won "superior" ratings in the Class B division.

The high school Boys Chorus won an excellent rating in the Class B boys chorus division.

The Girls Chorus, also competing in Class B, won an "excellent" rating along with Ebensburg and California. Smethport's Girls Chorus won the "superior" rating.

In Class B mixed chorus competition, East Stroudsburg won a "good" rating with Edgewood, Ferndale and Smethport achieving an "excellent" rating.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1954

March 21 to April 20 (Aries) — You may find yourself in the middle of extensive operations, problems that could be confusing. Restrict action to the important, essential, and don't be satisfied nor dissatisfied too easily.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus) — A beneficial setup but one you will have to work on this lovely Spring morning. Follow through in your inevitable manner, bring to play Taurus cleverness, show your wonderful traits.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — This can be a highly productive, satisfying day. Look for a very good day, but non-essentials. Much will depend upon how you act toward fellow workers, associates, superiors.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer) — Day's aspects favor business and personal achievement, benefits through observation, unity in work. Unusual exploits, planning strategic maneuvers will count importantly.

July 24 to Aug. 23 (Leo) — Interest in outdoor and youngsters' activities have freshly benefited influences now. Working in groups, drilling, mining, education, science sponsored. Imagination, intuitive powers strong.

Aug. 24 to Sept. 23 (Virgo) — You may be able to slip through the wire a top winner if you are alert, adaptable and really thinking. There will be contention and obstacles for the lax and disinterested, however.

Sept. 24 to Oct. 23 (Libra) — Those in trades and professions can expect new gains in sincere efforts suited to them: Lawyers, farmers, builders, teachers, public and social activities in general advance.

Oct. 24 to Nov. 23 (Scorpio) — Excellent vibrations for most part for you keen observers of the unusual. Don't overlook those out-of-the-ordinary opportunities. But a warning: be sure you understand requirements.

Nov. 24 to Dec. 23 (Sagittarius) — Influences favor issues that can stand study, analysis. It may not be easy day but it's possible to handle it profitably if rightly managed. Be eager but not glib.

Dec. 24 to Jan. 23 (Capricorn) — You may run up against unexpected opposition or hazards. Don't just balk; they will be more easily handled if tackled cleverly. Concentration and your knack for finding "how it's done" will help.

Jan. 24 to Feb. 23 (Aquarius) — Domesticity, romance, children's interests favored along with most business matters this on-the-whole good day. Get started right to benefit throughout the week. Advertising, salesmanship rate notices.

Feb. 24 to March 23 (Pisces) — Trades, masons, electrical and iron work, authors, journalists, painters and other specialization advance. Accuracy, sincerity will put balance in your favor.

YOUNG BORN TODAY are sound thinkers, stable individuals. You are often generous with money but not always with effort or time. You have definite likes, dislikes; are determined but will listen to sympathetic appeal. You wish reasoning processes. You are charitable but will freeze up if others impose a sensible counselor, generally capable of giving practical help.

MISER: Curial fondness for luxury, easy-going habits, remember your son's needs above materialistic pleasures, gains. In theatricals, medicine, writing, politics, engineering, construction, invention you can especially succeed. Histrionic: Horace Mann, famous educator; Thos. H. Huxley, noted English scientist.
